The Laguna contingent, directed by Dave Browning, takes official notice of the birthday anniversary, by sending an angel cake. I can hear the flutter of the wings of friendship. It is like putting a dark object in a white setting, but I'll try and get along inasmuch as the gift came from an affectionate source.

Howard Irwin, over from Fullerton, finds that I am out so he comes in and leaves a note for me to go to such and such a place Friday and make an inspection of a new business institution. He says it will be over my head but that won't make any difference. That's what happens when you allow a friendship to grow into familiarity. Just for that I'll go and make the inspection. That boy can't bully me, now that election is over.

Political headquarters have been vacated. About all that remains is the soap Halloween pranksters left on the display windows. Names of candidates have been erased by the janitors, some of them by the voters. Scattered inside the room are a few pieces of literature telling the voters a lot of things some of them evidently did not believe, judging from the results. What I mean is that the election is over.

The way I heard it is that neither Frank West or Kenny Morrison care to go through another similar election. It's too hard on the nervous system.

Let's you forget, Mr. Host and Hostess, next Thursday, Nov. 24th, has been officially set apart as Thanksgiving day. I have given you the information. That's all I am going to give.

Delayed in transit by Sam Jerigan and Dudley Morrison who bought coffee and then started to talk about New Orleans and what to eat and where to get it. They know the places. In one of them you can get coffee with "rope" in it. That's Sam's story. Another place you can get fish they cook in a sack. That's Dudley's story. I didn't tell you, but you won't catch me with that kind of story. Now I've got to see Jules Markel to find out which one of 'em is lying—or both.

About this time along comes Jack Wallace who wants to find Wait Vandermast to inquire why Wait has a birthday same time Jack does. Seemed peeved because it wasn't exclusive. Left me to become arbitrator. I adjusted the controversy, because I was a part of it.

The scene shifts to football, and the few friends who ought to know how and where to get tickets for the U. S. C. Notre Dame game. I could tell her where to find the dame, and who's interested in tickets when there is a dame around.

When those bank escorts to business men feel that the risk is becoming too great, I'll substitute. I haven't anything to lose.

I have a negotiation pending with Phil Lutz which cannot be concluded until the Valencia orange season is over. Both of us have some embryonic idea as to the conclusion. That's what's worrying us. If the finish is the way the start looks, Phil's supply of red ink as applied to my account will have to be increased. Which may be good news to the stationery men, but it brings no comfort to orange growers.

And then there is the job of coaching a football team. It's a swell spot if your team wins. You're a bum if it loses. That's why it isn't much better being a columnist. Found that out after an interview with Frank Henderson.

It took three service clubs to properly obseance the local football teams. They ganged up on the players and then capitulated with words of praise and adulation.

My congratulations to Frank West and Kenny Morrison. The sentiment indicated that the voters wanted both of them.

Now that the West-Morrison contest is over the general election of 1938 may be officially closed, so far as Orange county is concerned. But it gave us a lot of heart throbs while in progress.

Had a fine chance to collect a number if items but the crowd ganged up on me and all talked (Continued on Page 3, Col. 6)

50th Birthday of S. A. Chamber to Be Feted Tonight

U. S., Britain, Canada Sign Trade Treaty

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The United States and Great Britain, enjoying two-fifths of the world's trade, signed in the White House today a trade agreement establishing new economic ties.

At the same time, the United States signed a new trade agreement with her second best customer, Canada.

Signatures were affixed in the presence of President Roosevelt in the mirrored, gilded east room of the White House. Prime Minister Mackenzie King signed for Canada, Secretary of State Hull for the United States and British Ambassador Sir Ronald Lindsay and Arnold Overton, second secretary of the British Board of Trade, for the United Kingdom, Northern Ireland, Newfoundland and the British colonies.

With relations between the United States and Germany strained over Nazi violence against the Jews, the Anglo-American trade agreement appeared destined to bring the United States and Britain closer together and to push Germany still farther away.

Germany, now on the United States' economic blacklist because of her discriminations against American trade, is not eligible for the same tariff reductions granted Britain under the new agreement. As a result, her exports to the United States are considered certain to suffer.

300 to Gather in Legion Hall for Jubilee Program

The past will be linked with the future tonight, as the Santa Ana chamber of commerce observes the completion of 50 years of progress and at the same time envisions a new era ahead.

Three hundred persons will gather at the American Legion hall at 8:30 p. m. for the chamber's Golden jubilee, celebrating a half century of continuous service which began while Orange county was in its infancy.

HONOR FOR PIONEERS
A handful of pioneers who 50 years ago looked ahead and saw the possibilities that the future held—and worked to achieve their goal—will be honored tonight.

After they are recognized for their work in organizing and promoting the chamber of commerce, Harry H. Culver, founder of Culver City, will speak on "California Straight Ahead."

The old-timers will be introduced by Terry E. Stephenson, Orange county historian, who will describe the organization's work of the early days and the people active in the movement.

MUSIC ON PROGRAM
Pioneers or their descendants who will be introduced will include Mr. and Mrs. Colonel S. H. Finley, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Nickey, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Snow, Mrs. R. J. Blee, Mrs. John McFadden, Mrs. George Edgar, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. John Beatty, E. M. Smiley and Mrs. C. A. Riggs.

The musical program will include selections by the Elwood Earl string trio, consisting of Leska Porter, Margaret Davies, and Anna Mae Archer.

TUCKER TOASTMASTER
President Fred Merker of the chamber will open the meeting and introduce Attorney James B. Tucker, toastmaster of the evening. The program will follow a dinner.

Members of the reception committee to welcome guests will include J. S. Cox, C. J. McDonald, Ernest Layton, F. A. Jones, Harold Harrison, Mrs. Alice Peterson, O. W. Hinegardner, Harry Macres, Marie Gothard and B. J. Koster.

The chamber of commerce was organized 50 years ago as the Orange county board of trade. Although the name was changed to Orange county chamber of commerce and finally to Santa Ana chamber of commerce, there has been no interruption in its service to the community during the entire half century.

Anti-Nazi Pickets Mass Near German Liner

Some 5000 pickets, many of them carrying anti-Nazi banners, massed near the dock of the German liner Bremen as the ship sailed from New York for Europe. At times the picket line was three blocks long, but peaceful as a police detail of 200 guarded the vessel. Demonstrators were not allowed near the ship. Above: Some of the banners, and an American flag, carried by the throng.

SPANISH WAR'S END DECLARED TO BE NEAR

ZARAGOZA, Spain, (AP)—Insurgent military observers today expressed the belief that Generalissimo Francisco Franco's reconquest of the right (western) bank of the Ebro river had paved the way for an operation which should end the Spanish government's resistance.

Government and insurgent lines today were virtually the same as when the Ebro campaign, one of the longest and bloodiest of the Civil war, began July 25.

But insurgents pointed out the government forces suffered 75,000 casualties in the Ebro campaign in northeastern Spain and had abandoned a large amount of military equipment, much of which the insurgents salvaged.

Insurgent sources said at least 243 government planes had been brought down since July 25. An insurgent broadcast to "the government-held zone said: 'The hour for surrender has struck. We have conquered you because God has been with us. It is useless for you to resist further because your army is destroyed.'"

Daughter Born to Egyptian Rulers

CAIRO, Egypt, (AP)—A daughter was born today to the Egyptian King Farouk and his young Queen Farida.

Since the child was a girl the heir apparent to the throne will continue to be Prince Mohamed Aly, Farouk's elderly cousin, who was Prince Regent during the king's minority.

BERLIN, (AP)—Douglas Miller, commercial attaché of the United States embassy, was called to Washington today less than 24 hours after the departure of Ambassador Hugh R. Wilson.

described authoritatively as calling for an effort to remove the majority of the 600,000 Jews now in Germany to North and South America and parts of the British, French and Netherlands empires.

Trade Envoy Ordered Home From Berlin

LONDON, (AP)—The British government was said by a high authority today to have agreed to try to operate a plan offered by United States Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy for removing thousands of Jews now suffering from a wave of violence and restrictive decrees in Nazi Germany.

Prime Minister Chamberlain was expected to make a statement on the plan in the house of commons. The United States ambassador was known to have laid his proposals before Chamberlain in a long conference Tuesday and the British government considered them in its meeting yesterday.

The "Kennedy plan" has been described authoritatively as calling for an effort to remove the majority of the 600,000 Jews now in Germany to North and South America and parts of the British, French and Netherlands empires.

The paper said: "We know Mr. La Guardia, whose fat Jewish face is recognized from countless demonstrations and agitation against Germany, is no man of politeness and tact."

Shaw was the only witness on call before the jury today. His appearance and the voluntary retirement of Police Chief James Davis increased speculation in the city's torrid political situation.

Davis, 49, an officer in the department 25 years, applied to Mayor Fletcher Bowron's new police commission for retirement "to safeguard my pension rights."

The chief is eligible for a life pension of $312 a month. He said reports he was to be replaced had caused confusion in the police force, but he was willing to stay on the job if the commission so desired.

In connection with Joseph Shaw's grand jury appearance, the district attorney's office announced it was drafting an indictment on approximately 25 felony counts.

BERLIN, (AP)—The Reichsfuehrer entered the hall promptly at noon, gave the Nazi salute while an orchestra played Beethoven's Eroica, and then heard his aides eulogize Vom Rath.

Von Ribbentrop declared that "lies and calumnies, persecution and murder are the means employed by international Jewdom and other destructive powers which would like to block Germany's road into the future."

"If now a new wave of hate strikes out at us in the world, if an attempt is made to desecrate the sacrifice of our deceased party comrade by new lies and calumnies, a storm of indignation rises throughout our nation. Its determination at all times to sacrifice everything for the Fuehrer and the Reich becomes all the firmer."

Dean Balks At Raid on Vets, Quits

Officers Make 8 Calls on Legion Party; Criminal Chief Absent

A sudden split between Sheriff Logan Jackson and his right-hand man, Chief Criminal Deputy Merle Dean, led today to Dean's resignation, reportedly because he opposed Jackson's orders for a series of "raids" on an American Legion hi-jinx in Costa Mesa.

Between 350 and 500 Legionnaires from Costa Mesa and Tustin posts were gathered in the Costa Mesa post's new hall last night when deputy sheriffs made at least eight visits, at one time 14 uniformed men being reported in the hall at one time.

No arrests were made, deputies reporting unofficially they found no objectionable entertainment or gambling games. Legionnaires said "a good time was had by all."

Sheriff Jackson, defeated last week for reelection, said he had "nothing to say" either on Dean's resignation or last night's events. There was no report of the activities filed at the sheriff's office, where routine operations are recorded on report sheets made out by deputies.

DEAN AT HOME, MUM
Dean closed himself at home today, declining to come to the telephone. Mrs. Dean told newsmen "Mr. Dean has nothing at all to say."

The flareup came as a complete surprise to others in the office, since Dean had been chief of criminal operations for the sheriff during Jackson's entire term. The resigned chief deputy has been a police officer here for a quarter-century, and had intended to retire at the end of Jackson's term of office whether or not Jackson was reelected.

Sheriff Jackson, who did not participate personally in the raids, left early today for Las Vegas, Nev., to return, phones wanted for a morals offense.

ZABEL IN CHARGE
In the sheriff's absence and with Dean resigned, Herman Zabel, chief of the record bureau, was in charge of the office.

"Yes, Mr. Dean resigned this morning," said Zabel in answering questions by reporters. "I don't know what the reason was. . . . That was not a raid last night; it was just an inspection trip."

Legionnaire said deputies came into the hall at least eight times during the evening and early morning, but caused no disturbance. Several of the officers detailed by Jackson for the inspections were Legionnaires themselves.

3D KEY MAN IS OUT
Dean's resignation today was the third loss of a key man in the office in the past two months, and the second since Constable Jesse Elliott of Santa Ana won the election for sheriff. G. F. McKelvey, deputy in the criminal division, has been under suspension since he was implicated in the "Pools Rush In" criminal conspiracy case; and Deputy Fred Swayze was discharged by Jackson two days after the election for "disloyalty" and the good of the service.

Whether Dean's position would be permanently filled so near the end of Jackson's term was not known.

Other Legion posts and other organizations planning holiday events were skeptical today about what Jackson's future action might be.

Russian Production Barred in Chicago

CHICAGO, (AP)—The police censorship board announced today it had barred from exhibition in Chicago the motion picture, "Prof. Mamlock."

The picture had been booked for next week at a local theater. It is a Russian production based on Nazi racial prejudice, the board explained. Its action, it added, was on the ground that it "might incite Chicagoans to riot" if viewed here.

Last Member of Al Brady Gang Loses Legal Fight to Escape Chair

MURDERER OF OFFICER WILL DIE TONIGHT

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The supreme court refused today to stay the execution of James Dalhove, convicted slayer of an Indiana state policeman.

Dalhove is under sentence to die early tomorrow in the Indiana state prison for the killing of Paul Minneman. The policeman was slain while trying to arrest Dalhove for bank robbery.

Dalhove's lawyer, Mansel Hagerty, asked the court to stay the execution and to reconsider its previous action in refusing to review the seventh circuit court's affirmation of the death sentence. The court denied both requests.

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—A spurt of current through the electric chair at state prison here soon after midnight tonight will wipe out the last man of the Al Brady gang—three Hoosier farm boys who turned mobmen to loot and kill through the Midwest.

James Dalhove, of Madison, tiny 32-year-old trigger man of the gang, is to be put to death by the federal government for the slaying of State Policeman Paul V. Minneman of Logansport May 25, 1937, after the $2500 robbery of the Goodland state bank.

Dalhove was captured and his pals, Alfred Brady and Clarence Lee Shaffer, Jr., of Indianapolis, were shot to death by federal agents Oct. 12, 1937, in Bangor, Maine.

Dalhove's mother, Mrs. Bertha Dalhove Craig of Madison, had urged that her son, instead of being electrocuted, be infected with a deadly disease so that scientists might study him as his life ebbed.

Detective Captain Meredith Stewart of Indiana state police said Dalhove confessed in Bangor the trio had killed Edward Lindsey, Figua, O., grocery clerk, and Sgt. Richard Rivers of Indianapolis police in April, 1936, besides slaying Minneman, and held up many banks, jewelry stores, groceries and theaters.

CRISIS FACED IN MARKETING OF ORANGES

The California orange industry faced a crisis today in the marketing of its fruit, as the rift between the California Fruit Growers exchange and other marketing organizations grew wider.

The Mutual Orange Distributors and part of the independent shippers had banded together, refusing to set a quota for this week's shipments under the California-Arizona marketing agreement.

The distribution committee for the marketing agreement deadlocked last week on the prorate for the week, the M. O. D. members and the independents banding together and refusing to set the quota.

Charles M. Brown of Redlands, chairman of the Growers' Advisory committee, the governing body of the marketing agreement, said that the M. O. D. and independents would again block setting of the week's prorate at meetings scheduled for today and tomorrow.

The California Fruit Growers exchange has four members on the committee, the M. O. D. two and the independents two. The exchange has contended that this representation is unfair because it markets 75 per cent of fruit and has only a 50 per cent representation.

JACK M'CORD TALKS TO GRID SQUADS, CLUBS

Athletics and communism don't mix—and competition is the backbone of democracy.

That thought was given to more than 350 Santa Ana businessmen and high school and junior college football players yesterday at a luncheon in the Masonic temple where Ralph "Jack" McCord, noted referee, spoke at a joint meeting of Lions, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs honoring the two local football squads.

"Athletics and communism," began McCord, "Take the competition out of athletics and you've got nothing but a lot of dull calisthenics. Take the competition out of business and you've got regimentation. An athlete is never a communist."

McCord told of interesting incidents in his long career as an official in the Big Ten and Pacific Coast conferences, with side-lights on coaches, players and contests with which he is familiar. Calvin C. Flint, dean of men at the Santa Ana Junior college, was master of ceremonies and introduced the high school and jaycee football players.

The three local service clubs combined their meetings this week for the occasion.

Chester F. Ingersoll, 26-year-old SRA client who said he found a deputy sheriff's badge "when I bought the suit of clothes" was in the county jail on an intoxication charge today while deputies tried to figure out where Ingersoll got the shiny "buzzer."

Deputies were called to Ingersoll's home in Liberty Park, near Huntington Beach, last night by a report that he and his wife were having difficulties. Officers said they quieted the man, then started to leave.

Just as they put their car in gear Ingersoll reportedly chased Mrs. Ingersoll out of the house. The young man was arrested, but would give no explanation of the deputy's badge he carried, except that "I got it in a suit I bought."

C.I.O. Expected to Demand Third Term for President Roosevelt

DIES JEERED BY CONVENTION IN PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—The Congress of Industrial Organizations' convention, grinding out a policy program for liberal labor legislation, indicated today it would take action on proposals endorsing the New Deal and calling for a third term for President Roosevelt.

George Bucher of Philadelphia, a delegate of the United Furniture Workers' union, endeavored to obtain passage under suspension of rules of a resolution lauding the New Deal's program and putting the CIO convention on record for a third term for the Roosevelt administration.

CIO General Counsel Lee Pressman interrupted Bucher's motion to suspend the rules with the explanation that the resolutions committee still had under consideration several resolutions calling for blanket endorsement of the Roosevelt administration and a third term for the White House incumbent. At Pressman's request, Bucher defended his motion until the resolutions committee brings in its report.

The 500 delegates a few minutes later went on record as approving a social security program, which Harvey Fremming, chairman of the committee on social security said meant a "tremendous expansion of the program put into effect under President Roosevelt."

The resolutions established a committee on social security, endorsed adequate care for the aged, needy, blind and widows, approved the President's national health committee's activities and ordered a survey of the health cooperative field.

The convention jeered the name of Martin Dies, chairman of the house committee investigating un-American activities, when a delegate read a resolution calling for an "investigation of the un-American activities of the Dies committee."

J. E. Crossland, of the Industrial union council of Texas, Dies' home state, said of Dies: "He looked young and bright and they thought he would be another Huey Long and not another Hitler."

The jeers and boos started when Crossland first mentioned the name "Dies" and continued as he declared it was impossible to get "rid" of the congressman at the last election because "some people still believe he may do some good."

Jeers were loudest as the speaker added Texans were "ashamed of him."

BRITISH FAVOR REFUGEE PLAN

regarded by the American colony in Berlin as a significant indication that the United States department of commerce had lost interest in Germany for the present.

BERLIN. (AP)—Prominent Jews suggested today that the United States "mortgage" the German immigration quota for the next three years and accept 81,000 Jews immediately.

Practically trying to arrange refuge from the Nazi laws against them, they pleaded that America, England and France and Germany permit the German Jewish population to emigrate without passports and visas "because of the acute need."

The Jews kept away from population centers today, afraid that the funeral at Duesseeldorf of Ernst Vom Rath might lead to more violence, like that of a week ago after the Paris embassy secretary died of wounds from a Jewish boy's revolver fire.

Ranchers Warned Of Desert Wind

Another pesky desert wind was predicted for tonight or tomorrow—and ranchers were preparing for the worst.

Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs said humidity would be low and that a strong wind was expected, resulting in burning of foliage on citrus trees. Ranchers already have been plagued by one wind and several nippy nights during the past two weeks.

Tubbs said Floyd Young, government meteorologist at Pomona, called him with the warning early today.

CALHOUN PLEA LAUNCHED IN MURDER TRIAL

Charley Calhoun, 28-year-old convict, may have been unconscious in slaying Clyde Dillinger, his 30-year-old stepfather, because Dillinger was the father of a child born to Mrs. Calhoun.

That statement was made today to a superior court jury of seven women and five men, hearing the murder case against Calhoun in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court.

N. D. Mayer, defense attorney, began presentation of his evidence today after a statement to the jury which said that Calhoun was not responsible for his acts when Dillinger was shot June 26, but was mentally unbalanced because of Dillinger's abuse of Mrs. Calhoun and the defendant's other women relatives.

"We intend to prove," said Mayer, "that Dillinger was found with Mrs. Calhoun on two different occasions—that once he took Mrs. Dillinger to a hotel and showed her where he and Mrs. Calhoun had registered—that Calhoun was released from the penitentiary in Oklahoma on June 3, 1937, and that the following Nov. 23—three and a half months later—a child was born to Mrs. Calhoun and that Calhoun was informed Dillinger was its father."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Preston Turner rested his case this morning.

STATE LEADER OF D. A. V. PAYS CHAPTER VISIT

On a tour of Southern California, State Commander O. K. Whittenburg of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, visited Santa Ana yesterday and addressed the local Jack Fisher chapter at its regular meeting last night.

He is accompanied on his tour of southern districts by his adjutant, Irwin J. Landis of Los Angeles.

Discussing hospitalization and aid to the needy veterans, Commander Whittenburg declared: "Our greatest responsibility is not necessarily toward the comrad in the hospital alone, but also to his family during such time as he may be confined to Sawtelle or any other hospital."

He said his patient will respond to treatment satisfactorily while worrying about his family at home. "That," he said, "is where our job starts."

Officers and representatives from a number of other veterans' groups were also in attendance, according to A. H. Jones, adjutant of the local Jack Fisher chapter.

War Never Has Settled Any Question, Dr. Duvall Tells Wednesday Evening Forum

"Is war the way out?" Answering with a firm "no," Dr. John C. Duvall of Syracuse University, New York, last night spoke before the regular Wednesday evening forum held at the Little Theater in Santa Ana high school.

The speaker said war has never settled any question, and could not possibly do so. The only way to prevent war, he said, is to remove the conditions which lead to war.

Dr. Duvall showed that the last war not only failed to relieve the sources of the trouble, but that the trouble has actually been aggravated in the years since the war. He said he wasn't attempting to paint a dark picture, only one of realism.

Next week Dr. Duvall will discuss "Crime, Its Cause and Cure." Before taking the lecture platform, Dr. Duvall was professor of sociology at Syracuse University where he specialized in the study of crime.

The Wednesday evening discussions are offered by the adult education department of Santa Ana schools and are free to the public.

SCHOOL OPERA UNIT FORMED

LOS ANGELES.—Plans for the establishment of an association called Los Angeles Opera for Schools were announced yesterday at a luncheon at the Biltmore before a group of civic leaders by William Bachheimer, identified here with musical education.

The project represents a youth movement in this cultural field, and is designed to afford opportunities to younger artists to express themselves in the realm of grand opera, and simultaneously to bring this type of artistic endeavor before students in schools.

"Through Louis W. Curtis, supervisor of music, we already have the support of the board of education," declared Bachheimer. "Our first performance will be given the evening of Dec. 6 at the John Burroughs High School."

Bachheimer was introduced by B. B. Kline, who referred to Bachheimer as a personality of opera as well as in the field of musical education.

CLUB HEARS DIALECT YARNS

C. E. Miner of Redlands, known in Southern California as "the Eddie Canton of the West," gave a number of Italian dialect imitations to the Breakfast club members this morning. He was introduced by George Townsend, program chairman. Miner's three numbers brought into life characters and habits of business and conversation familiar to the Italian nationality. They were very much enjoyed.

In the absence of Dr. Arthur Wade, who was to present the Red Cross appeal, Eddie Marble substituted and urged membership in this agency.

District Attorney-Elect George Holden, Sam R. and Gene F. Plyler were voted into membership. There will be no meeting of the breakfast club next Thursday morning—Thanksgiving day—but the meetings will be resumed December 1, with Walter Eggers program chairman.

The first state to go dry was Maine, in 1846.

FINAL COUNT ELECTS WEST BY 129 VOTES

Two nip-and-tuck races for election to public office had been decided today, as results from last week's balloting were made official late yesterday by county supervisors.

Completion of the absentee-vote count gave Franklin G. West, Santa Ana attorney, a plurality of 129 votes over Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison in their race for judge of the superior court, office No. 2.

An even closer race wound up in Orange township with the defeat of Justice of the Peace Cal Lester by David Fairbairn of Olive, deputy sheriff, by the slim margin of eight votes.

A contest was possible in the Orange race; Morrison had conceded West's victory and said he would not demand a recount.

West and Morrison, for a time only one vote apart on the basis of unofficial returns, wound up with a difference of 129 votes between their respective totals. In the regular balloting, official totals gave West 23,890, Morrison 23,733. Absentee votes went 339 for West and 367 for Morrison, cutting West's regular vote lead of 157 down to 129. The opponents finished 24,229 for West, 24,100 for Morrison.

Morrison's statement of yesterday, conceding West's election at noon and offering his congratulations to the winner, was followed today by a statement from the judge-elect. West, who referred his statement until his victory was officially recorded, said:

"I am most gratified that I have been elected to the position of judge of the superior court, and of course I am mindful of the great responsibility which will be mine in the position. The faith and confidence which have been reposed in me will indeed be an inspiration.

"My opponent and I have waged a vigorous campaign, and I know we are both very happy that it was conducted on an ethical and decent basis. I deeply appreciate his generous sentiments toward me and thank him sincerely for them."

Morrison, whose term as justice of the peace expires next month, will enter private law practice. He did not run to succeed himself in the lower court because of his candidacy for the superior bench, and Howard C. Cameron, Santa Ana attorney, was elected justice of the peace in the primary election without opposition.

In the Orange township contest the margin of Fairbairn's lead was but 17 votes in the regular balloting, and Justice Lester, former county auditor and Orange city councilman and city clerk, picked up nine votes in the absentee ballots.

In the regular voting Fairbairn's official total was 2722, Lester's 2705. Absentee votes went 40 for Fairbairn, 54 for Lester, making final official totals Fairbairn 2767, Lester 2759.

Lester, questioned about possibility of a recount, said he "had not been thinking of it." Should he decide to go to court for a recount and still be the loser, the proceeding would cost him about $200, it was said, on the basis that a county-wide recount costs around $2000 and Orange township has about one-tenth of the county's precincts. The justice's position pays $135 a month.

AT CLUB Monthly bridge tea and card party is to be held at the Santa Ana country club tomorrow, with a luncheon preceding cards for those wishing to make reservations. Mrs. Carl Mock and Mrs. Charles Cogan are in charge. Mrs. and Mrs. Horace Stevens and Dr. and Mrs. John Ball will be hosts at Sunday buffet dinner.

500 CHILDREN TO BE FED ON THANKSGIVING

Five hundred Santa Ana children will have reason to be thankful on Thanksgiving day because of the generosity of a local restaurant and local service clubs and lodges.

Needy children who otherwise would not have a genuine Thanksgiving dinner will be given a turkey dinner at the Green Cat cafe through courtesy of O. W. Hinegardner, proprietor. Several local service clubs, the Elks and Masonic lodges are co-operating in making the day of thanks a joyful one for these needy children, Hinegardner said.

The banquet room of the Green Cat cafe will be used to serve the 500 turkey dinners. Children from 6 to 12 years of age will be the ones honored, and only their word of honor will be used as reason for serving dinner. No tickets will be given, but the various civic bodies, including the chamber of commerce, will provide names of those who deserve the dinner. Dinner will be served from noon until 3 p. m. under Hinegardner's direction.

Tux and Gown Chatter

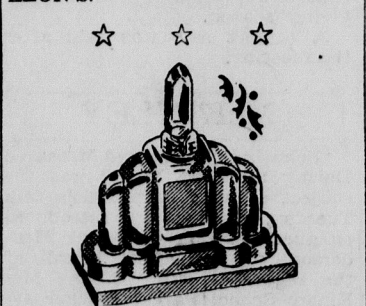

THANKSGIVING DAY is a family get-together day... and we all look forward to this event. Pumpkin and mince pies fill the rooms with their delicious fragrance, and the smell of that great big turkey baking in the oven is enough to make anyone faint with hunger.

If you are one of those who are entertaining guests on THANKSGIVING DAY, you will want your table to look as attractive as possible. A centerpiece of large yellow chrysanthemums with brown cat-tails interspersed, will make a nice center. A few bright fall leaves strewn along the table will add to its charm. Then when you have your best china, silverware and bright crystal goblets set on the table your success as a charming hostess is predicted.

Don't let your eyes be bigger than your tummy... for it would spoil your fun if you were to dream of hogchollins all night. Until next week... BARBARA.

THE PLACE TO GO

IS THE new Oasis at LEON'S on the 101 highway. Such a place to go... cannot be found for miles around. So when you want an evening of enjoyment... meet the crowd at the new OASIS at LEON'S.

VALENCIA CROP TOTALS 56,500 CARLOADS, ALL-TIME RECORD

Annual Report of Exchange Reviews Season's Harvest

The Southern California valencia crop last year was the largest ever produced.

Total f.o.b. returns on the valencias were less than in four of the past six years—

The f.o.b. average per box was less than in a great many years— That was the picture painted today in the annual report of Paul S. Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

He said the southern California valencia crop totaled 56,500 carloads. This exceeds the former bumper crop of 1935 by 6519 cars, or 13 per cent; and is in excess of the four-year average crop by 18,344, or 48 per cent.

RETURNS $3 MILLIONS

Other highlights of the report:

A record volume of 107,330 carloads of oranges, lemons and grapefruit marketed by the California-Arizona citrus industry for the 1937-38 season returned approximately $3,000,000 to packing houses.

Shipments through the exchange totaled 53,653 cars of packed oranges, 53,558 cars of grapefruit, 14,491 cars of lemons and 8401 cars in loose fruit form, a total of 80,103 carloads.

ADVERTISING COSTS

Exchange marketing costs averaged five cents per packed box without advertising. National Sunkist advertising took 10 cents a box on lemons, seven cents on oranges, and three cents on grapefruit.

The central-northern California naval crop of 1937-38 as reported by all shippers to the California-

Arizona orange grapefruit marketing agency was equivalent to 10,548 carloads.

Southern California's naval crop and miscellaneous varieties of oranges were approximately in line with the 10-year average, totaling 25,329 cars.

LEMON CROP GAINS

Central California's valencia

crop harvested by all shippers equaled 5995 carloads, which was within three per cent of the 1935 record production. Total f.o.b. returns average per box was lower than in a number of years, but were greater than in four of the past six years.

The 1937-38 season's lemon crop was approximately 22,847 cars,

2.5 per cent more than the 1936-37 crop. Shipments through the exchange on a 406-box basis totaled 16,279 cars of packed and loose fruit.

California, Arizona, Texas and Florida combined to produce a grapefruit crop for the 1937-38 season of 75,692 carloads. Florida produced 38,500 cars, Texas 29,500,

California 3740 and Arizona 5952

carloads.

BETTER THAN MOST

Bountiful harvests, with accompanying low prices, were the rule

throughout agriculture, Armstrong reported. The citrus industry fared better than most, which is small comfort to those who did not make expenses, but does justify the confidence in the future because of the sheer volume sold and consumed

under most unfavorable conditions,

he said.

Freight and refrigeration took $48,000,000, the report revealed.

Costs of transportation and distribution are too high, with freight this year taking more per box than the gross return to the grower, the report stated.

"We need greater unity of purpose and action and less duplication of facilities and services. There are too many packing agencies in California," Armstrong said.

AIDS TRADE BALANCE

His report showed that more than 90 per cent of the returns are derived from sales made in interstate and foreign commerce and are, therefore, an important contribution to the balance of trade in California and Arizona.

More than 9000 cars of oranges and a considerable quantity of lemons.

Value of $10,370

Put On Injuries

Damages of $10,370 were demanded today for injuries to the head and back of Harold Faccou in a traffic crash at West Washington and Baker streets last

Aug. 1.

Defendant in the suit, filed in superior court by the law firm of Rutan, Mize and Kroese, was John

Passwater, driver of the other car, accused in the complaint of being negligent and causing the crash.

one and grapefruit, the report showed, were exported to countries other than Canada during the season.

"The returns from the citrus crop are distributed widely," the exchange official said, "for labor, materials and for services furnished by other industries. Supplies necessary in the citrus business come from various industries, and labor makes up much of their cost."

REGULATION URGED

Stressing the exchange position in favor of continued regulation of shipments as a means of improving returns to growers, Armstrong said that even more important is advertising and sales promotion such as the exchange has conducted for 30 years. Sunkist advertising has paid growers well, and more like it is needed today,

he said.

The combined cost for both marketing and advertising for the season was reported as 4.54 per cent of the gross sales.

The marketing problem during the winter did not hinge so much on the size of the naval crop, as was normal, as on the excessively heavy production of Florida oranges which moved to the markets without regulation, coupled with low buying power throughout the country, and the enormous apple crop selling at low prices, the report said.

RECORD VALENCIA CROP

"Florida's interstate shipments

during our naval season were 10-

201 cars greater than the five-year average—an increase of 44 per cent."

A record volume was consumed

as fresh fruit, since low prices and relief distribution enabled many people to eat oranges much more often than ever before; and this has undoubtedly strengthened the demand for oranges in years to come.

The Exchange Orange Products

company pressed over 97,000 tons of oranges, including 54,000 tons of U. S. No. 3 or better, for which the federal government paid

$432,000 at the rate of $8 per ton.

Over a quarter million dollars additional will be returned from sale of products from the 1937-38 orange products pool.

The Exchange Lemon Products company handled 43,620 tons of lemons. Total disbursements to associations during the season were $638,400.

Gain in exchange membership of 5660 acres was reported.

Membership advertising by the exchange in citrus belt newspapers will be continued during the season, Gen. Mgr. Armstrong announced.

SAINTS PLAY HERE; DONS ENTRAIN TONIGHT

PREPS BATTLE SAN BERDOO TOMORROW

Slightly favored in its closing contest of the Citrus Belt league season, Santa Ana High school's football team clashes with the San Bernardino High school eleven in the Municipal bowl at 2:45 p. m. tomorrow.

Both rivals hold only one victory in league competition. Santa Ana defeated Redlands, 21-6, and San Bernardino was hard pressed to beat the cellar club, 6-0. Santa Ana tied (6-6) Chaffey team that outclassed San Bernardino, 19-7. Fomona's champions walloped Santa Ana, 19-0, and San Bernardino, 26-0. Riverside defeated the Saints 12-6 and San Bernardino 15-6.

Capt. Eugene Hamaker, who has been handicapped by a knee injury, will see action for the Saints tomorrow, but probably will not start, Coach Bill Foote said.

PLAYOFFS RAPID
Recommendation was made by 14 representatives at a C. I. F. meeting in Long Beach yesterday that all championship playoffs be abolished except in track. The recommendation will come before the C. I. F. council at its annual meeting the first Saturday in February.

Little George Higashi is slated to call signals at quarterback for the Saints, with Bobbie Musick at fullback. Wayne Piper and Ralph Barnes will start at halfback.

The Santa Ana line will have Don Dunning, made-over guard, at center. Ray Mercado and Vernon Ashby will be at guard. Bob Webb and "Chuck" Prida at tackle. Bill Was and Bob Pollard at end.

San Bernardino's hopes will be placed on Taylor, right halfback who has thrown three touchdowns passes for the Cards. The San Bernardino line averages 160 pounds.

Tentative starting lineup for San Bernardino will be Smith and Hunt, ends; Beltz and Gressinger, tackles; Beckley and Gressinger, guards; and McCullough, center. Backfield posts will be filled by Ceverson, quarter; Taylor and Watson, halfbacks; and Walker, fullback.

Tomorrow's game may not be the last football contest for the Saints. Coach Foote said today. He indicated that he was angling for a post-season encounter with San Diego High school, but no word has been received from the southern school.

Tentative starting line-ups:
Santa Ana: (1) W. L. T. (2) W. L. T. (3) W. L. T. (4) W. L. T. (5) W. L. T. (6) W. L. T. (7) W. L. T. (8) W. L. T. (9) W. L. T. (10) W. L. T. (11) W. L. T. (12) W. L. T. (13) W. L. T. (14) W. L. T. DIVIDED KENTUCKY

Strange as it seems, Kentucky was represented in both Union and Confederate Congresses during the Civil War—and furnished both Presidents for the opposing sections.

Although that state wholeheartedly supported the Federal government both in the War of 1812 and the Mexican war by supplying far more than her quota of soldiers, Kentucky officially refused to honor Lincoln's call for troops in the Civil war.

"Kentucky will furnish no troops for the wicked purpose of subduing her sister Southern states," was Governor Magoffin's reply to Lincoln's plea. However, strange as it seems, Kentucky eventually furnished 80,000 troops for the Union armies—and also sent 40,000 men to the Confederate side.

Thus Kentucky found itself represented in both the Union and Confederate Congresses, with her own men fighting on both sides, under a Kentucky-born Union president—Abraham Lincoln—and a Kentucky-born Confederate president—Jefferson Davis!

Score, 28 to 71

A few days ago this newspaper questioned the wisdom of a proposal which Senator-elect Kenny, of Los Angeles county, has advanced; namely, to take steps looking to the elimination of the initiative process from our California constitution.

Judge Kenny bases his opposition on the biennial nuisances which, he contends, the initiative measures constitute for the voters. The system provides a means, he argues, for well-financed special interests to present extreme, ill-considered and dangerous proposals that may thus become the law of the state.

Sen. J. J. McBride has taken the trouble to ascertain to just what extent the people of California have, during the years, employed the initiative process. He learns from Secretary of State Jordan that 28 initiative measures have been adopted, while 71 have been rejected.

We are unable to recall at this moment any particularly dangerous or highly undesirable law which has thus been enacted, while we can recall plenty of that type which have been turned down by the people.

Before the legislature does anything along lines that Senator Kenny proposed it should make a study of the 28 initiatives which have gone on the statute books by this process, determine how many of them are sound and beneficial, and what percentage, if any, have been harmful.

We may learn that the 28 include some highly desirable laws that, for one reason or another, the legislature has failed to enact. In any case, certainly no sufficient reason has yet been advanced for taking from the people this right of direct legislation. We doubt if a study of its actual results as shown by an analysis of these 28 measures will produce such a reason.

Election's Over!

It isn't often we're still talking about an election nine days after the polls are open, but this year Orange county voters were treated to their own political thriller in the West-Morrison duel for judge of the superior court.

And now that it's over, may we extend congratulations both to Judge-elect West and to the runner-up, Justice of the Peace Morrison? Any two men who have to go through more than a week of political creeping jeepers like a pair who are so evenly matched at the polls have, besides insomnia, our sympathy.

The closeness of the vote, the enthusiasm with which friends rooted for each candidate, and the widespread interest evidenced by everyone was an indication that people in Orange county really are interested in who conducts their courts; and it was an indication that both candidates were the sort of men we like to have in public office.

The retirement of Judge Morrison to private life, after 14 years of outstanding service on the bench of Santa Ana justice court, will be a loss to the public service.

And the election of Franklin West to follow in the footsteps of his distinguished father has gained for the Orange county superior court another of the able minds which have made this county outstanding in California jurisprudence. He will be, we predict, an excellent judge.

Best wishes to both—and may they get caught up on their sleep soon!

The American Way

The President's appointment of former Gov. Alfred M. Landon of Kansas to the delegation which will represent the United States at the Pan American Conference at Lima, Peru, was a master stroke. And Mr. Landon's acceptance was just as fine.

Mr. Landon, as everybody knows, was Mr. Roosevelt's opponent in the 1936 elections. He was decisively beaten. But instead of retiring to the sidelines to jeer, more than once he has emerged to join wholeheartedly in the cheers. When the Japanese sent the Panay to the bottom of the Yangtze, he went out of his way to back up the administration's stand, saying that, in America, politics stop at the water's edge.

Secy. of State Cordell Hull, of course, will head the Lima delegation. No better choice could be made. So Mr. Landon will be second in command. Thus, while it can be said in all truth that a smaller man than the President would not have made the appointment, it is equally true that a lesser man than Mr. Landon would hardly have accepted.

Advance in Skyland

Many brave hearts have gone to a tragic end for lack of a little device that would tell airplane pilots exactly how far they were above the surface of the earth.

Storm-caught and flying blindly, many a stout-hearted pilot has ridden his plane into a hill or mountainside for lack of knowing that the earth was ascending to intercept his course of flight.

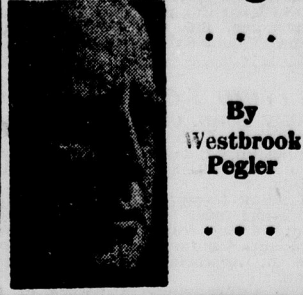

Airmen always, up to now, have said among themselves, "Give us an altimeter that has an actual relation to the terrain we are above, and we'll be safe."

And now that device, known as a terrain clearance indicator, has been invented. It is a radio contraption that will tell a pilot at any time exactly how much space there is between him and terra firma. It will make flying under storm conditions much, much safer.

The pioneers are slowly but surely conquering the element that "wasn't made for man."

Figure the gains and losses as you please, the great fact sticks out that, on occasion, the folks will vote regardless of the party label. 'Tis democracy.

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler
NEW YORK—It is no more possible to argue with the Nazi state of mind than with the germ of some foul disease. It must be considered as a thing, no more capable of reason or decency than dirt. Civilized human beings find it offensive even as a topic of discussion, but must discuss it because it is there, swollen and horrible to sight, smell and intelligence, right outside the window of the homes of the human race and beginning to spread disease.

In this vein, and not as an appeal to the non-existent reason of the thing, human beings must discuss its offensiveness and speculate on means of protecting themselves from its pervading stench and the dangers emanating from a rotting object in the street.

This thing thinks that it is God and that all the creatures which crawl in it partake of godliness, while the members of the human race, being outside nazidom, are vermin to be subdued, sickened and destroyed by the germs which it gives off. It has called this country a nation of gangsters and boasted of its discipline and then has ordered out mobs to murder, loot and burn, offering the excuse that the disciplined, non-gangster state was unable to control the rioters and maintain internal order. This country has had a few isolated, spontaneous mishaps of the same kind in Chicago, Springfield and Atlanta, but with the difference that the government in all such cases promptly leaped in to the fight to quell the rioting and restore order.

STAGE ALL SET
This Nazi thing for some time has been planning the final act in the debasement of the German nation, the re-introduction of human slavery in a country which once could make honest boast of its intelligence and civilization. The assassination of one of its agents by a young hero in Paris was not the cause but the pretext. If this has been an outburst of uncontrollable public indignation, it would have happened three years ago, when another desperate victim of its tortures killed one of its agents in Switzerland. The indignation was well controlled that time, however, because the Nazi thing was not yet ready to stage its thing.

The thing calls its victims all communists in one breath and in the next speaks of them as greedy capitalists. It cries "coward!" at an utterly desperate waif in the world who invited death to strike one blow, but sees bravery in the hounding and scourging of unarmed, helpless, hopeless, starving people by mobs operating without risk under the direction of its police and troops.

It cries "gangster!" at the American nation and pleads helplessness when mobs stone two cardinals in their homes, smash and loot and throw a priest out of a window to his death.

SHORE TO SHORE
This Nazi thing set adrift in a river a barge loaded with its victims and laughed uproariously as they were stoned from shore to shore, threatened with death by beating wherever they should land and with death by starvation and exposure if they didn't land. It has made human beings prowl in a field on all fours, like beasts, to cut the grass by nibbling it with their teeth and has found humor in that. It has torn families apart and stoned them away in all directions, never to be reunited or know a day's peace again in this world, and forbidden fathers even to beseech, much less to work for, food, warmth or medicine for their children.

This thing has infected the Italian nation and has even exported its pestilence to this country through its bunds, while from Germany it reviles the very people whom the bunds are ordered to seduce. It has armed beyond any other power in the world and mobilized 1,500,000 men to crush an independent nation, but has denounced this country as a warmaker because the United States has decided to repair its defenses.

And yet, between the lines from Germany at the height of the terror, there were hidden away little hints that some of the German people still remain human beings. Some were arrested, the dispatches said, for daring to express pity for the victims and alarm for German civilization. A German woman was beaten up for a murmured objection. So there is ground for hoping that if the force were removed the decent element by example, influence and law would lead the race back to civilization and bury the thing in shame.

ESSAY ON MAN
Man never knows precisely what is right.
So, torn between a purpose and a doubt,
He first makes windows to let in the light
And then hangs curtains up to shut it out.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

NOV. 17, 1913

The Progressives of Orange county may not put out a county ticket. The matter will come later for consideration, it was decided at a meeting of the Progressive county central committee held at the Rochester hotel in Orange Saturday afternoon.

A congregation of people, variously estimated at from 800 to 900, were present yesterday when the corner stone of the new Baptist church was laid by Rev. Otto S. Russell, pastor. The exercises were conducted in the interior of the new edifice, and the people sat on extemporized seats of planks while the exercises were in progress.

When Congressman William Kettner of San Diego was a resident of Santa Ana some 20 years ago, Newport bay was known to him as a pond of water—it was never considered as a possible harbor. Saturday he inspected the bay as a harbor possibility and the inspection was indeed a revelation to him.

While Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Durnbaugh, who conduct a dairy, just beyond the city limits of Orange, were at Sunday school yesterday, their new house, with nearly all its contents, was burned to the ground.

CHICAGO — (By Science Service) — Sulfanilamide, the drug sensation of the day, has made a new conquest in the cure of brain abscess and the prevention of almost certain meningitis.

Dr. Paul C. Bucy of Chicago reports the latest spectacular usage of the new drug in the forthcoming issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

A 4-year-old child treated at the University of Chicago clinics was the patient who responded promptly to the sulfanilamide treatment when her critical condition was diagnosed as an abscess of the cerebellum.

Surgeons opened the brain and drained the pus from the abscess. The surface of the cerebellum was swarming with hemolytic streptococci and meningitis seemed inevitable.

Immediately sulfanilamide treatment was begun. In two weeks the little girl was well again.

Dr. Bucy declares that the University of Chicago Clinics in the future will treat all brain abscesses in a similar manner.

A defect will be made in the skull over the abscess, the pus sucked out and sulfanilamide treatment begun. If this suffices, nothing further will be done. If not, the abscess will be opened, evacuated in the usual way.

FEUDAL PRINCE
The Italian prince Ascanio Colonna who is en route to Washington as ambassador is a prince because his family, a thousand years ago, couldn't keep the peace. In medieval times there were two great families of feudal barons in Rome, the Colonnas and the Orsinis. They had private armies and waged murderous wars on each other.

The pope decided he would have to make them behave. Employing the tactics of a modern child psychologist, he gave the

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON.—According to the Duchess of Atholl, whip of the conservative party on the floor of parliament, Prime Minister Chamberlain and his party have been kept in power only through support by President Roosevelt. Roosevelt's statement supporting Chamberlain's agreement with Mussolini was a lifesaver, according to the duchess, and saved off probable parliamentary defeat.

While the duchess was making these statements at a New York luncheon, Sir Willmot Lewis, astute and charming Washington correspondent of the London Times and unofficial ambassador of Great Britain, was nudging her to keep quiet. The last thing the British want known in this country is any cooperation between Roosevelt and Chamberlain.

TOO MUCH ENGLISH
Evidence of this cooperation is worrying some of Roosevelt's close advisers. They are saying nothing about it publicly, but the abrupt election upset, and the recent Gallup poll showing a sharp drop in Roosevelt's popularity since the tragic Munich accord, are giving them the jitters.

The Gallup poll showed that Roosevelt's popularity had shot up after his telegrams urging peace upon Hitler, then had dropped when it became apparent that his peace pleas were ignored, and that Chamberlain was no friend of the lessening popularity of Chamberlain, strikingly evidenced by the defeat of a conservative candidate last week in one of the largest districts, has made Roosevelt's advisers anxious that his name not be linked with the British premier in any manner, shape or form.

Yet, simultaneously, some state department boys are equally determined that Roosevelt shall continue in lockstep with Chamberlain. Particularly is this true of Under Secretary Sumner Welles, who has just returned from a visit with the rarefied nobility of Europe.

The latest Chamberlain deal, now just around the corner, is on Spain. He and Mussolini are about to sell the loyalists down the river, and some state department boys are anxious to have Roosevelt give the deal at least slight blessing.

This has aroused the opposition of three cabinet members, Ickes, Wallace and Morgenthau, the only ones who dare talk out loud at cabinet meetings on foreign matters. They are pulling wires to prevent Spain from being sold out, propose that instead of following in Chamberlain's footsteps, Roosevelt should act independently, perhaps lift the Spanish embargo as an indication that Chamberlain is not running U. S. foreign policy.

CAUTIOUS APPOINTMENTS
It has become by tradition a part of the job of the president of the United States to attend at least one dinner each year of the National Press club in Washington. At such a dinner recently Roosevelt was the guest of honor, and (writes an Evening Standard correspondent) I was told this story of the proceedings:

Private guests besieged the president for autographs. Some club members were struck by the sight of Mr. Roosevelt hastily signing right and left; and speculated on the possibility of his unwittingly signing an important document. One member slipped up among the autograph hunters and put before the president a menu card for signature.

On the card he had scribbled: "I hereby appoint Herbert M. Bratter (a reporter) as ambassador to the North Pole." Folding the menu so the writing would not be noticeable, he stuck it under the presidential nose back duly signed.

The card came back duly signed. But Roosevelt had not been caught napping. He had scratched out the "North," inserted "South," and added as an explanation, "North Pole already occupied."—Edinburgh Dispatch.

The Mailbag

Public opinion, or what somebody in office imagines to be public opinion, is our ruler. If public opinion is active, the politicians and people sit up and take notice. There is a definite need for outspoken talking and thinking on public matters. Honest, intelligent fair discussion of our problems is immensely useful. So that every citizen may have his say and contribute to the formation of public opinion, The Journal invites letters to The Mailbag. Please limit communications to 350 words. The editor reserves the right to shorten all letters in excess of that length.

SLACKS O. K. IN BALBOA
To The Editor: Permit me to disagree violently with your editorial of Wednesday about the action of a Los Angeles county municipal court judge in making a contempt order against a kindergarten teacher who insisted on defying the court—she had been warned—and appeared in slacks in the courtroom, just to be smart.

You suggest the citation may have been a publicity stunt on the judge's part. As a matter of fact, that comment might conceivably put your newspaper in contempt, if the judge wanted to be mean about it.

But what gets me is this—here was a barefaced attempt to defy the authority of the court. It was rightfully punished. There are too many people who think they can thumb their noses at authority—and Signor Mussolini says that lack of discipline is going to cause the downfall of American democracy. Respect for the courts and dignity of courts is a good big part of public self-discipline. And if the public gets forgetful, sometimes its members must be reminded.

Sometimes courts do look a little stuffy, and maybe a few of us think some of the rules could be eliminated. But so long as dignity is maintained, then so long will we have a wholesome respect for law. Better to err on the side of ceremoniousness and keep our respect.

Nobody appreciates a pair of slacks hung on an appropriately constructed young lady, better than I do. I still think there are places for them though, and courts of justice aren't the places. Balboa, I am glad to say, is different. I'd like to hear from others on the subject.

STASSEN'S VICTORY
Harold Stassen faces a great opportunity as next governor of Minnesota.

In his successful campaign for the governorship, he has the support of many liberal and progressive independents as well as conservatives.

He really ran as an all-party candidate, making his appeal to the entire electorate from the start, and maintaining that approach throughout the campaign.

Mr. Stassen's victory, therefore, does not mean that Minnesota has gone reactionary, or now wants a reactionary state government.

On the contrary, Mr. Stassen has convinced the voters that he is a true liberal. The response at the polls indicates that the majority of Minnesota people are confident that he will give the state a liberal and progressive administration, and he repeatedly promised, and will also make that administration efficient and economical, with an attitude of sympathetic understanding toward the problems of business and industry.

It is hoped that extremists on both sides will forget their bitterness, now that the election is over, and co-operate with the new governor in the sincere hope and belief that he will represent all the people and not the republican party alone.

Such cooperation with Mr. Stassen is, in the large sense, cooperation for ourselves in behalf of good government for ourselves. That cooperation is not to be narrowly defined as doing Mr. Stassen or his party a favor, but rather as a means of serving ourselves and our best interests. For it is always the people who must pay for poor government . . . and always the people who benefit by good government.

Farmer-laborites on the one hand and conservative republicans on the other will now bury partisan animosities and unite their efforts for the good of the state and its people, progressing along liberal and sensible lines, the future for Minnesota is bright.—Minneapolis Star.

MODERN DOLLS
Two little girls coming down town on the outer drive limited were deep in conversation.

"Do you still play with dolls?" interrupted the other in a superior tone.
"Oh, but they're modern dolls. They can do the shag and the Lambeth walk and everything," the first little girl explained hurriedly.—June Provinces in Chicago Tribune.

Philosophy

Last summer I used to lunch surrounded by the most beautiful mountain scenery that you can possibly see in Europe—or perhaps in the world. There is no other easily accessible spot on earth where one finds such awe-inspiring, such spectacular views of immense glaciers and mountains that reach up into the sky. It's called the Cornergrat, and can be reached in two hours by cog railway from Lermott, Switzerland. Sitting on the terrace of the Kulm hotel, two miles above sea level, you see 59 glaciers and 50 high peaks as you lunch. The main glacier is so close that if you had a good arm, you could hit it with a baseball. A few miles away to your right, the Matterhorn juts up three miles into the sky.

One day I noticed a woman sitting at a nearby table. She had removed her coat and the label on the collar proclaimed that the coat was made of "Grenfell" cloth. That label conjured up a delightful memory of one of the most remarkable Christ-like men I've ever met—Sir Wilfred Grenfell. He was stopping at a little hotel in New York. He told me that he slept on the floor so that he would not get soft.

I think you would be interested to learn how Sir Wilfred Grenfell's whole life was changed by a sudden decision. He was a high-priced doctor in a fashionable section of London. One summer he spent his vacation in Labrador. I was there, he maintained his momentous decision. An unselfish, Providence-guided decision which has been the means of alleviating the suffering of hundreds of persons every year. The fishermen in Labrador were so miserably poor that they were always on the verge of starvation; the country so barren that sometimes the cows had to be fed on codfish. Sir Wilfred's heart was moved and stirred. The climax came when he found that among the 30,000 fishermen there was not one physician.

"I'm going to stay here and be their doctor," he said.

He gave up his fashionable London practice and moved to bleak, windswept Labrador. He has suffered deprivation week after week, month after month. He has endured indescribable hardship. He has slept all night on floating ice; he has been lost in the wilds of Labrador; he has been so hungry that he has eaten the sealskin straps of his boots.

But Sir Wilfred Grenfell works for an ideal—to relieve distress. He has been there 45 years. He never expects to leave.

He is one of the happiest men I ever met. "I'm happy because I'm living a life of service," he told me.

We can't all go off to Labrador and live a life dedicated to service, but we can do little things for people every day. Some little kindness here, a helping hand there. Try this little daily thinking of others—it'll make your life one hundred—two hundred—per cent happier.
